FOUR ARE PROSTRATED

Previous High Mark for June
22 Was 91, Which Was Reached in 1888.

The hottest day so far this year and the hottest June 22 on record in this city brought torment to New York yesterday. For a few minutes, about 2:30 in the afternoon, the mercury in the official instrument on the Whitehall Building reached 93 degrees. Then a wind squall, with a brief gale, hit the city and prevented any further progress upward. One death was recorded before the relief came. In several sections of the city a heavy but brief shower was reported.

But 93, according to all signs, was high enough. Even James H. Scarr, local meteorologist, admitted that it was very warm. Also he said that unless some thunderstorm broke around the city it would be just as warm to-day and to-morrow. There is a hurricane raging in the Gulf of Mexico, and a heavy rain is said to be falling in Texas, but that fails to help anyone in New York.

The heat victim was Annie Drozda, 1 year old. The child died in her sleep in the home of her parents at 102 Oliver street. Dr. Scheff, of Volunteer Hospital, said the baby was overcome.

Increasing cloudiness is predicted for the next few days, but the effect upon the temperature depends upon the number of showers. The heat wave, however, will not pass for several days. For a time yesterday afternoon, at about the time the squall broke, a rainfall of a few drops was reported in Brooklyn. This rainfall, according to the Weather Bureau, was the forerunner of other showers which may be expected.

Previous High Record 91.

The previous record for June 22 was 91 degrees, in 1888. The following schedule showing the temperature by hours since midnight tells the story of the jump from a refreshing 88 degrees at 5 A. M. to the record eclipsing 93 at 2:30 P. M.:

Heat Prostrates Four.

Four heat prostrations were reported. George York, 67, of 109 Harmon street, Brooklyn, was overcome and after treatment was sent home.

William Brown, 47, a laborer, of 232 West 124th street, was attended last night by Dr. Sullivan of Bellevue for heat prostration at Thirty-seventh street and East River. He went home.

Samuel Whitman, 30, a clerk, of 526 Sixth street, was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital when he collapsed in front of 641 Washington street.

John Wrinkler, 35, of 132 Bowers, collapsed at 12 East Fourth street and was sent home after he was given medical attention.

The suffering caused by the heat was evident in every part of the city. Thousands went to the beaches as soon as they could, but boiled on their way there. The East Side went to roofs and the West Side to the West Side to Riverside and Central parks.

REJECTED, HE THROWS ACID IN WOMAN'S FACE

Ertle Persisted in Attentions
Until She Was Married.

The flinging of acid into the face of Mrs. Mary Gibney of 12 Lincoln place, at Second avenue and 118th street, last night led to the arrest of Emil Ertle, 26 years, of 949 Third avenue. Ertle was charged with felonious assault. Mrs. Gibney alleged he injured her because she had rejected him in marriage.

Ertle was arrested after a chase in which Detectives Murphy, Crosby and Ertley of the East 126th street station used passing automobiles. He was captured two blocks from the scene of the acid throwing.

It is charged that Ertle, who conducted his attentions up to the day Mrs. Gibney was married, walked up to her as she walked through 116th street and after speaking unintelligibly drew a bottle of liquid from his pocket, uncorked it and attacked her. Mrs. Gibney was badly burned about the face and body and was removed to her home after being attended by Dr. Cassano of Harlem Hospital.

BISHOP FINDS SUBWAY WORSE THAN JUNGLES

Roaring of Lions Less Terrifying,
He Says.

The Rev. Theophilus Momolu Gardiner, who will be consecrated Suffragan Bishop of Liberia this morning at the Church of the Incarnation, at Madison avenue and Thirty-fifth street, said yesterday that he found it much easier to go through the jungles of Africa in safety than through the subways.

Dr. Gardiner is 51 years old. He was born in the jungle, the son of a Mohammedan priest, and ran wild until he was 10 years old. He was found by missionaries.

The Rev. Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, Presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church, will have charge of the consecration of Dr. Gardiner. He will be assisted by the Rev. Thomas P. Gallor, Bishop William T. Manning, Bishop Paul Matthews and the Rev. Arthur S. Lloyd.

YOU'RE STUNG AND SCARED IF THIS $7 C. O. D. GETS YOU

Former Beauty Parlor Owner Said to Have Victimized
Women at Suburban Hotels by Sending Unordered Preparations C. O. D. at High Prices.

Persons who have the habit of paying offhand for parcel post packages delivered C. O. D. without taking the precaution of determining something about the senders, are warned by the Post Office Department to control the habit. Post Office inspectors began investigation yesterday into the operations of various persons who have been using the mails to extort, one of them a woman who at one time ran a beauty parlor. The different persons have all used the same system; sending packages of small value at high prices to persons whose names had been selected

HENRY GETS CLEAR IN PERJURY CHARGE

Indictment Dismissed Because Newton Sees No Chance for Conviction.

Satisfied, as he told the court, that a retrial of the case would not result in a conviction, Charles D. Newton, Attorney-General, yesterday recommended the dismissal of the indictment for perjury against Police Inspector Dominick Henry, whose conviction on June 12, 1920, was reversed a month ago by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. On Mr. Newton's motion Justice Henry V. Borst dismissed the indictment.

Henry has been under suspension from the Police Department since he was indicted by the so-called Almiral Grand Jury on May 25, 1920. At that time he was in command of the Fourth Inspection district. He was charged with having sworn falsely to conversations he had with Assistant District Attorney James E. Smith and Smith's brother-in-law, Dennis J. Quinn, concerning the establishment of alleged gambling houses in the district which he commanded.

While Police Commissioner Enright could not be seen yesterday, it was said at Headquarters that Henry will be reinstated and that he will receive full pay for the year he has been off duty awaiting final settlement of his case. When Henry was indicted, Justice Weeks sentenced him to serve from two to five years in State prison. Henry was at liberty in $10,000 bail pending an appeal.

The dismissal is the second within a week of indictments voted by the Extraordinary Grand Jury, of which Raymond F. Almiral was the foreman.

Justice Wagner on Saturday dismissed the indictment against Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany Hall, and others, charged with conspiracy to defraud Louis N. Hartog. According to figures given out yesterday by David Hirschfeld, Commissioner of Accounts, the Almiral Grand Jury, which was in session a year and a half, cost between $150,000 and $160,000. An important conviction based on its indictments other than for criminal anarchy has been obtained, with the exception of that of Edwin Kilroe, former Assistant District Attorney, found guilty of conspiracy to obstruct justice. Kilroe's case is on appeal.

MASTODON BONES ARE 'COMMON' IN NEWBURGH

Museum Unmoved by Most Recent Discovery There.

Reported finding of the bones of two large mastodons in the farm lands back of Newburgh created no excitement at all yesterday in the American Museum of Natural History. Dr. Frederick A. Lucas, director of the museum, said such finds in Orange county and in the general vicinity of Newburgh were "common."

"The best known specimen of the American mastodon, which is on exhibition in this museum," said Dr. Lucas, "was found not far from Newburgh some years ago. The one in the Brooklyn Museum was also found around there. In fact, may be said that no more fertile field is known for the discovery of mastodon bones than the countryside. One was found on the border of a brook in the Harriman estate, some years ago."

"The genus is merely that of the American mastodon, and the geological formations indicate that the fossils have lain there anywhere from 10,000 to 20,000 years."

SALE OF OPERA HOUSE ONLY ADDS TO TANGLE

Further Foreclosures to Follow
Judgment Auction.

The Manhattan Opera House was sold at auction yesterday by Sheriff Knott under a court order to satisfy a judgment against the property obtained by Mrs. Stella Keating and Mrs. Rose Testevan, daughters of the late Oscar Hammerstein, and was bought by them for $145,000.

The property is encumbered by claims amounting to $600,000, and the sale only serves to make the legal complications surrounding the property even more entangled. Mrs. Hammerstein said yesterday she would have possession of the property for the next fifteen months and would go ahead looking for the coming season.

Francis Gallo and Samuel H. Jacobs served notice they would take steps to foreclose the third mortgage on the property, which is for $150,000. Charles A. Sackett, president of the Mutual Bank, which holds the second mortgage for $50,000, also will bring suit to foreclose.

'PRETTIEST GIRL IN SOUTH' WINS DIVORCE

Roosevelt Once Paid Tribute to Mrs. Day.

Adelaide Allen Day, once proclaimed by President Roosevelt "the prettiest girl in the South," was granted a divorce yesterday by Justice Guy in the Supreme Court. Mrs. Day, formerly of Atlanta, was married in 1907 to Leonard Day, an electrical engineer and patent lawyer, who held the second mortgage for $50,000, also will bring suit to foreclose.

Her suit was brought after her husband had brought action for separation and was followed by a counter suit for divorce by Mr. Day. Herman Joseph, a lawyer of 115 Broadway, acted as referee and decided in favor of Mrs. Day.

Secret Investigation Has

Activities.

NEW CHARTER IS SOUGHT

Exposure of Wasteful Practices of Present Administration Is Forecast.

Senator Schuyler M. Meyer, chairman of the legislative committee investigating the city administration, announced yesterday that the preliminary survey of subjects to be taken up in the formal hearings had been practically completed with the examination of several witnesses.

Hearings in City Hall will begin next week, according to the schedule, and the committee plans to sit three days each week throughout the summer. It is expected that the inquiry exposing whatever there is of waste or graft in the Hyland administration will be completed by early autumn. The results will be turned over to a Charter Revision Commission authorized by the last Legislature and to be named November 1 by Gov. Miller to take up the task of remodeling the city charter.

Phases Investigated.

Thus far in its examination of witnesses and records the committee's examiners have gone into nearly all of the city departments and have touched many phases of municipal activity. All the evidence gathered in this preliminary and secret inquiry are to be made known to the public through hearings.

Summary of the activities of the committee up to date shows that it must have available a great amount of information dealing with the work of Mayor Hyland and his appointees. The most important of these activities, concerning which scores of witnesses have been examined before subcommittees are as follows:

Management of the city's finances through the comptroller's office, showing to what extent the municipal credit has been damaged, what bonuses the city has been compelled to pay to get loans as a result of poor credit and what the enormous cost of expensive bureaus are maintained in the Department of Finance.

Overhauling of the Department of Markets to show whether city licensees have been sold; whether Tammany leaders have a hand in "fixing" important market franchises, which have collected revenue from push cart peddlers and how the enormous funds which passed in the army food transactions were handled.

The conduct of the Police Department in nearly a score of its branches, including the special funds, amounting to millions; the system of issuing pistol permits, the method of making propositions and demands, what the police have done in connection with suppressing gambling and what Tammany influences are at work in this department.

System of Purchasing.

Operations of the Department of Plant and Structures and the Board of Purchase, which buys most of the city's supplies, and of which Grover A. Whelan is the head.

Review of pay vouchers and personal bank accounts of officials, including Mayor Hyland, showing whether prominent officials have accumulated much money during their terms in office.

Dock leasing to determine whether favoritism has been shown in giving out permits and whether a prominent Tammany man has been a go-between in this business.

Queens county contracts, especially a large number of sewer contracts. Snow removal contracts amounting to many millions, in which it was charged there was tremendous waste if not graft.

The Department of Licenses system of issuing licenses for concert halls, dance halls, theatres, common shows, junk shops and a dozen other things, to find whether there has been gross favoritism, as is charged.

The Board of Education and conditions in the schools.

Present Charter Antiquated.

Every city department and bureau will be asked to explain its expenditures and management, the purpose being to show where these offices overlap and duplicate and where cutting can be done.

New York's charter, a "rusty, antiquated mechanism built around ambiguous phrases," according to the Legislative Investigating Committee, which issued yesterday a summary and history of the charter covering its 275 years. The statement was prepared as an aid toward charter revision.

From its original 400 words the charter has been amended and extended by hundreds of amendments and interpolations into an unwieldy document which means anything one wishes to make it mean, the committee finds. The purpose of the committee which is investigating the city administration is to lay the groundwork for the Charter Revision Commission named by the Legislature to meet in the early autumn. The committee reviews the charter through many stages of development.

BABY STRANGLED IN CRIB.

The two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Post of 111 Fifth avenue, Rutherford, N. J., was strangled to death yesterday afternoon while in her crib. Her head became wedged between the rails of the crib and she was dead before her mother found her.

COOL CLOTHING

The lighter the fabric the more likely it is to crease, cling, pucker, or twist out of shape.

That is another way of saying that the lighter the fabric the greater the need for good tailoring.

All of this is so obvious that it should be unnecessary to print it; but just notice the kind of tropical suits some men wear and the reason for printing it will be equally obvious.

The good tailoring in every Wanamaker suit has a two-fold advantage in tropical suits.

Good tailoring is one vital feature in which Wanamaker tropical suits excel. The other is in the fabrics. There are no better tropical fabrics made than the kind used in Wanamaker men's tropical suits.

It all comes to this—the goods are right, the tailoring is right, the fashion is right and the suit cannot help being right.
